BASIC-ABSTRACT:

The pad support and underlay for working with a computer mouse (10) comprises a mouse pad (2) and wrist support (3). During use the pad slopes in a downwards direction (L) away from the support and in a sideways direction (L) to reduce lower arm and wrist strain.

USE/ADVANTAGE - Irritations, swellings or injuries to the lower arm region are prevented. The angle of the hand relative to the lower arm is not forced upwards.
